

GRIMES'

PATENT INDIAN CAMP LAMPS.

MANUFACTURED ONLY BY THE PATENTEES,

T. R. GRIMES & Co.,

83, New Bond Street, London;

AND OBTAINABLE THROUGH THEIR AGENTS:—

OR MESSRS. SMITH, TAYLOR AND CO., BOMBAY;

AND MESSRS. SMITH, ELDER AND CO., CORNHILL, LONDON.

The attention of Officers, &c., is respectfully directed to the above long desired appendage to their camp furniture, which comprises in one small case, 22 inches by 11, and 10 inches deep, a complete set of Lamps, viz. 1

- A Table Lamp with Globe, Chimney and Pookah Protector.
- A Reading Lamp with sliding shade, Chimney and Pookah Protector.
- A Chamber Hand Lamp, with Chimney.
- Pair Trimmers.
- Filling Can.
- A Box of Wax Lighters.
- Three gross of Lamp Cottons (sufficient for a year.)
- Ten extra Chimneys.

The case is of oak, ornamented, lined with baize, and fitted with partitions to receive each article, brass lock and hinges, lifting handles and name plate.

PRICE TWELVE GUINEAS, COMPLETE.

The Lamps are on Grimes' patent principle, already well known in India as being the only Lamp really adapted for that country. They produce a large, pure and mellow light, double that produced by Lamps on the old principle, while their construction is so simple, and devoid of machinery, that it is almost impossible to put them out of order. The cotton holders are made to collapse, so that no wooden mandril is used for inserting a new cotton. They are thoroughly protected from draught.

Lamps of more elegant designs, suitable for the table, vestibule, to suspend from the ceiling, or to affix to the wall, may also be had on Grimes' patent principle, in which the cumbersome under-dish is dispensed with.

Candle Branches, Glass Lustres, Table Glass, richly engraved or cut, drawings of which may be obtained by applying to either of their agents as above.